Back around 1962 I was taking lessons in oil painting at a studio in Texas which was run by a very stodgy old conventionalist harridan with no sense of humor (one of the only artists I've ever met like that). One of our assignments was to sketch out our favorite animal in charcoal and then paint it. When she reviewed the charcoal sketch, she was sort of distracted and shined it on. I don't think she understood what she was looking at....so I went ahead and finished it. When she saw the full blown Rat Fink, she almost had a kitty cat. My days were numbered after that. I used to love cartooning and got pretty good at it....and I always wanted to build one of those Big Daddy Roth chariots (a for real one) but the closest I ever got was a Triumph TR4 modded with a 289 and a Borg Warner 4 speed. .

Hey, I helped a guy put a 289 in an MGA... Lunacy, lovely lunacy it is..

Now I have a vibrochamp with a Matchless DC30 in it. Some things never change.

Hey, I'll pay ya to do a female Rat Fink (pink with a bow in her hair) on a surfboard for my kid's birthday!

Just gimme a price.
