
Subject: Where'd my taskbar go?

I just had to swap monitors on a machine running Win 95. I had been using a 17" Samsung LCD. I switched to an old E-systems 15" CRT. The taskbar at the bottom has disappeared. The computer loaded the proper driver for the CRT and I have adjusted the resolution to where it should be, but no taskbar shows up at the bottom of the screen.

Am I hallucinating.....(again)?

position your cursor at the bottom of the screen, click on the very edge of the screen & drag upwards... it should expand.

Tried it.....didn't work. I just booted into Safe Mode and it showed up. Now I'm rebooting again and hopefully it will show up again.

"it can freeze/halt an unbelievable number of things on your system over it..."

would that also explain why my logitech mx518 gaming mouse fails to come back on after re-open my laptop?

thanks aaron, now that I see what's up here I'll dig in....

Dude, I've seen it kill IE after first launch and only allow the user in that first launch session put in a FULL url.. meaning, no shortcuts like www.whatever.com , instead making you type the full <http://www.whatever.com> -wierd- stuff happens. I would rule nothing out when it comes to that particular clsid.
