Hi Everyone

Haven't posted here in awhile because I just built a house and my Paris stuff is in boxes. My 3 year old son has an unusual interest in music and particulary drums. I found this set on Craigslist and thought I might throw the 200 bucks at it.

Obviously, it's hard to give much guidance on a set for a 3 year old, but any input would be appreciated. Right now he is banging on some makeshift drum toys and boxes and is the type to become fixated on things. I have a feeling he'll play it day and night for months on end (which could become really annoying, but we must promote the musical thing)

Barry
