Well whaddaya' expect. He invented the friggin internet fer'crissakes!!! I especially like this tear jerker:

"But I think there's a question in his mind, perhaps because the pain of the last election runs a lot deeper than he lets most of us see."

It would sure be funny if he ran again and got his arse kicked.

Yeah, we could all get bumper stickers saying:

RE-DEFEAT GORE!!

Or mebbe he could get on the ticket with Hill...

D'ya think?

I think you should buy a PC. And run Linux on it. And use it for audio production.

Somebody's got to be the pioneer here, and DeeJ is not stepping up. :^)

It's a late night at work and I don't have much to do, so I figured out to use Mplayer on Debian to scrape/rip/save Real Media files. Now I can write cron jobs to download all of my favorite www.bbc.co.uk/1extra DJs when I'm at work and listen to the archives when I get home.

Still not music production on Debian but it's something.
