I've still got my 3.0 software that isn't tied to any hardware card. You never know what the future will hold.....plus, maybe Mike will have the time in the future to create a VST version of these plugins. At any rate, I get more support here for my ongoing endeavors than I do anywhere else so even if I'm not using Paris right now, I want to contribute something.

You guys rock....well...except for Neil.....
