Do you guys have any problem when going from chapter to chapter?
My DVD player jams up and goes to the table of contents after every = section.

It drives me nuts because I feel like I'm always missing information?
I've tried two different disks but they're both the same so it's either the DVD production or my lame ass DVD player.

Anybody else?

By the way I still watch it no matter how painful...

Tom

It never did that for me. I only tried one player though.

Cheers,
Kim.

yep, mine too, i just watch it all the way through. I only watched it twice and took notes so now I pretty much know all it has. The BT comping section with all the Booms and Bams is hilarious.

John,
You too? Mine won't play all the way though. That's the=20 problem. I have to look at it in another machine. The table of contents is rough to navigate also. I may have missed sections after all this time.

tom, what are you watching it on? are all your codes up to date??? i know this is a stretch but what's your video card. i know that ati's like to insert macromedia protection on a lot of things and not at all times.

Rick,

I'm watching it on a hardware box hooked up to my TV.

It's a Phillips DVD-726. Works pretty good with most DVDs
but it's certainly not high end.
