Subject: getting paris running on a new box......
Posted by scott h on Sun, 23 Sep 2007 00:29:36 GMT

aloha!

 long time no post on here.... honestly... long time no use of Paris ....
but that is now changing...

after buying a new house and 2 months later, loosing my day gig.... it seems as good of a time as any to start a new venture.... and bring the old girl up to date to help in that process...

so, I just purchased a new(er) box to house Paris (the old one is 10 yrs old... was running on windows 98... and is...well... um... slow) the new box has a brand spankin' new and fresh install of XP....

here comes the big question...

I have never done a Paris install on XP before... what sort of obstacles should I be looking out for? any hints/suggestions?

scott h (a.K.a.-fresnel)