had this HD crash, took it in and they ran a utility on it so now it shows up again. However, this big tune that I spent a month on won't open up. A dialog box comes up saying:
"Error in reading this project. There is not enough memory. Clearing the undo/redo buffer from the settings menu closing some windows may allow you to complete this operation".

Well.... with this song only, many of the options to click on under the Settings menu to include the undo/redo are greyed out, meaning you can't click on it. I need help!

Steve - if you can stick the project in a folder and zip it into an archive, I can try taking a look at it here.

I appreciate that Kerry, however it's 18 gigs. I just ended up re-playing most of it. Thanks my friend.
