I have a client who lives in London and may need some mixing done. Any Paris people there?

Hi Gantt,

There's one guy I know of who bought an eight out module from me earlier this year, Frazer Horton (oakhurst at intonet dot co dot uk). He's been on the board a few times (maybe more in the old times?), but I've no idea what his setup is, may not even have the facilities. He is in London though!

One of the only other users I know of here in the UK is Andy Longhurst (ajl at theartofmix dot com, posted on the FS board recently), he's in Stroud, Gloucestershire (a couple of hours from London). I think he still has a pretty full setup (I convinced him not to sell out of paris yet, well not until I could afford to buy it!), but don't know if he's available for work.

that's about it as far as I know, sadly I am waaaaaay too far north for London!

good luck

Kerr
