Just got me an iPhone and wanted to gauge interest in giving the forum an "auto-sensing" iPhone/ cel-phone/ other PDA-friendly interface. Let me know if you use any of the above and would find that useful.

I would!

I have a 3 yr old T-Mobile Sidekick. I visited the forum from it last week and had no problem navigating or reading posts. I'll try a test post sometime soon. Thanks Kerry.

I'd be interested...

I think it might be as simple as forcing some apple-mobile web content meta tags in the HTML.

If I had any kind of spare capacity I'd offer to make an app for you (I've got a developer license...)

Cheers

Kris

Oh, now how freakin' cool would that be- a PARIS forums app? Reaper forums eat your heart out . Understand about the free time though,, that stuff is definitely at a premium nowadays.

Still, things can definitely be done here on the server side to tweak the mobile experience - it's not bad as-is but it could always be better.

Hey Kerry, I just got an iphone as well and would be very interested. Been tinkering with "teamViewer" as a remote desktop app to control Paris from the vox booth, works great for a quick overdub here and there.

Thanks again.
