Even more: You have to buy the pres and EQ via a separate rack units.
The bad part to this product to me is that it only uses the MAckie HUI &
MC controllers. That won;t cut it if you're a Steinberg, Logic, Sonar user.
HUI is very weak as a Pro Tools Controller..

I would like to see this kind of product WITH Euphonix deep EUCON control..
As if stand, the Tascam DM-32/48 is the best band for all-around DAW/Mixing unit..

I think you can patch in outboard pre's and EQ's. Thing is, you're getting charged as much as you would for a DM2000 which is a lot more flexible, I think, and has preamps.
