Hey guys,

Check out this Nashville up & comer's website. These are some artist demos we did about three months ago. Her music page has some downloadable "hi rez" mp3s. And not only is she an attractive gal, she was very sweet and personable, too.

Great job Chris! Excellent drum sounds and everything seems to sit very nicely in the mix.

I'm inspired!

Chris,

Really great mixes. I love the toms and snare. As others have said, everything seems to have its "place." Very impressive.

Hats off,

Nice job, DeWd! :) Really great sounds & mixes... is the rhythm guitar on: "If it Mattered to Me" a modeled tone, or at least recorded direct? Just wondering - it has that kind of characteristic.

What was your signal chain for her voice? It's a nice straight-ahead vocal tone without any over-coloration of any kind.

As other people have mentioned, nice choices on sounds overall across the board on all the cuts... "It Don't Help" is my personal fave, I think.

Impressive studio work.

And not bad songwriting on that first tune.

I agree on the over-active website. That's just too much bandwidth-chewing for my time and attention.

Thanks, Neil.

Mike Durham played all the electric stuff thru an amp, though I can't remember what kind of amp, mic'ed with a 57. Jason Roller played a Larivee acoustic mic'ed with a Studer stereo mic. The vocals they carried over to Nashville's Quad Studios to record, and I'm not sure of what mic they used, but I do know they used a Neve pre and an LA2A comp.
