This is a situation were people should get involved. Some of these prosecutors are such idiots.

Another reason for talented people to not get involved with educating our children. Just what we need!

If I had a nickel for every time I've had to scrub that crap off mine and other's computers I'd have enough money to buy out DeeJ!

Clearly, the fault does not lie with the teacher. Gee, what if we spent this time and money prosecuting the spyware/malware crowd or giving money to the school so they could've paid their bill?

My $.02.

Damn straight. It's a travesty of justice.

And the bumbling cops and prosecutors didn't eve check for spyware!!!

It's not like it's hard or anything. It seems to me like a bunch of people need to lose their jobs and she needs to file some serious lawsuits here.
