A couple of days ago I did some tracks for a client and burnt a CD-Rom containing wave files for him to take to another studio to do some other work. It was labeled "Data CD".

I explained how all the files were perfectly synced so the protocols guy could drag them in to his session.

Five minutes after he left my house he called, saying "I just tried to listen to this in my wife's car, and she has a REAL good CD player, and it won't play".

To which I say....."It's a DATA CD"

"Oh....it's a data CD?"

"Yes, whould you like an audio CD so you can play it for your wife?"

"Yes, maybe that's a good idea"

So he came right back and I burnt an audio CD for him.

The things you have to put up with sometimes.
