Hi to all.

You may not know that except for a crazy tweaker I am a songwriter producer musician with some international awards for my songs.

I have a project with a female English artist called Laura that is now in a process of remixing under Paris.

I have remixed the basic strong track and I would like if some of you could point to the right people in business (Brian-T ??) that may license, distribute, maybe co-produce if there is a strong producer and it will be essential, for this project.

I believe that is very very strong stuff with commercial potential.

Just needs the right connections.

I am willing to give percentage of any potential income to anyone who will help me in this pursue with this project.

Other project with male band artist is following (this is also a fantastic project).

Sorry for me being so positive with my stuff but I really believe in what I do !

Thank you in advance and please let me know if someone wants to hear to this track so I can email an mp3.

Regards,
Dimitrios
