Hi,

I'm getting back into the swing of things after a long break starting a family and all.

Look forward to purchasing the new plugs, great to see things are still evolving in the PARIS world.

I've been planning a new workflow, mainly focussed on "composition" first (if you can call it that). I'm running Ableton Live with about 8 loopers, using the new RME Fireface UC on a '07 Macbook Pro.

I intend to lightpipe that on the fly into Paris, where I like to work on completing the ideas I capture, do overdubs tracking (still can't beat the 'freeform' mode for comping takes!), and of course mixdown.

The Fireface UC has Adat I/O but my MEC doesn't, so I'm in the market for a Paris ADAT card....

Look forward to catching up with the group. Are Sakis and Derek still around?

Cheers,
Amuse

(Pete Alec)

I think Martin H is here - also don't forget there might be Aussies reading but not yet logging in.
