

---

Subject: install PARIS 3. XP problem - Can't open project !!?

Posted by Peter on Mon, 18 Jul 2005 00:56:08 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

estern world would have sufficiently proven that it responds to peaceful behaviour with slavery and abuse, and that the only language they understand is violence.

it would simply be the exact opposite. its painfully obvious.

>And I >would be the George Washington of a new Palestine. The problem >is that they have no one like that and they would kill them if they >did.

so far, the guy that got killed for going ghandi wasnt on that side but on the other one.

not that im implyin

---

---

Subject: Re: install PARIS 3. XP problem - Can't open project !!?

Posted by EK Sound on Mon, 18 Jul 2005 16:22:06 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

processor but will have to wait for now.

>>

>>

>> Regards,

>>

>> El Miguel

>>

>>

>>

>>

>>

>>

>> "erlilo" <erlilo@online.no> wrote in message news:42d77ee8@linux...

>>> The "old" ones with PCI ver.2.2 sockets are the ones to go for with

>>> Paris,

>>> for the most with AMD processors but Intel will do the job well too.

Asus

>>> and Epox are good names but I think most of them can do the job with >>> nForce2, VIA or SIS chipsets for PCI 2.2 cards. A card like Matrox

>>> Millenium G450 or 550 will do the

---