Wow, I didn't know I was the only person to ever make a non paris post!
I feel like I'm being singled out. Besides, I thought this was the RME Cubase
SX NG; )

By the way, which John is this? There has been a few Johns here over the years.

Doesn't seem like a lot of Paris-specific posting going on anymore. We all seem to know how to work it. Many of us don't even use Paris on a day-to-day (or even week-to-week or month-to-month!) basis. I still use it every day but I have to confess that I've been shopping for my next DAW for while now.

---

I'm the original John. You are just the new kid on the block.

I've been here on and off under various handles since 97 as I recall. More of a lurker in the past. I assume this is John Macy?

If I was still running Paris I'd need the cup because of how it always kicked me in the balls but with Cubase I'm fine ;-)
