I sold one to a Parisite named will wilson about 3 years ago. You might search the archives and see if you can find him.

Was that the one without the daughter card?

I've got one EDS sitting here that has a non-functioning daughter card (no eds effects work, but otherwise works normally).
Cheers,

Mmm...   I think the archives only go back about 2 and a half years...
Chuck was only keeping 12 months. You might be lucky though.

Cheers,
Kim.

Hi TC,
Sure it works with multi system EDS cards ?
If so how much the core card ?
Thanks
Dimitrios

Hi there D,

I don't have it currently installed, but I've had it running fine in a 4 card system. The only thing is that it does not have eds effects on the submix of that card. It went south on me for some reason. I did have a local audio repair guru try and touch up some of the connectors (he said some of the solders were sloppy) but it did not solve the problem and I didn't want to spring the $ yet to get it fixed at thesoniq. Whatever is wrong with it seems to be on the daughtercard, so if you are interested just shoot me an offer privately. You and I have had smooth transactions before on ebay.

Cheers,

This is not possible.... The EDS500 card does not have the daughter board installed... the ribbon headers for jumping cards are on the daughter board... hence, this card can NOT be used in a multicard system.

I'm not sure what you are saying isn't possible. The card I'm referring to has the daughtercard installed, it's just not working for eds effects but it passes audio, and I did have it in a multicard system. I've never used an EDS 500 card.

Cheers,

TC

So you have an EDS1000 with bum effects then... OK, I thought you said you had an EDS500... sorry.

David.

Yeah, but Will Wilson is still busy buying and setting up Paris systems for his amigos in the Kansas City area.

I saw him post a few times in the past few months. Try the for Sale group.
