the mistake of giving my "friends and family" rate to a client who was neither - just an old acquaintance with a hard luck story (to make it even more "doh" - one I'd even heard rumours about).

After an astonishingly abusive, out-of-the-blue email I received from them about scheduling (I forwarded it to my colleagues, who said "WTF???"), I'd sent the client this reply: "the data CDs of your sessions are in a black plastic garbage bag out on my lawn underneath the studio window. I'd come get them soon if I were you; it looks like it's going to rain".

They sent a cab.

about this a while back and if there is an issue with it that I can't deal with, I will be sending it to him for a good going over and a clean bill of health before I put it on the market. I will personally guarantee this unit to be free of any issues and sonically wonderful when the buyer receives it. The reason I'm selling this is because I need some pres with a bit different color and feature set for tracking drums. I'm going to be looking at options along the lines of RND Porticos, API 3124, a UA 4110 or delve into the lunchbox moneypit.

I'm thinking $2000.00 for six channels of truly hi fi wonderfulness or I would talk trade plus/minus $$ for some of the products shown above.

I'll get some pics up here over the weekend once I've got it unracked. It's truly a work of art under the bonnet.

I know I'll be kicking m cking myself for selling this.

;)Hi Guys,

Well, it's been over a year since I put a rig back together, but..... despite all the good work going on, I'm just not using it that much (lack of time more than anything!)

So, up for sale is:

EDS1000	($150 / 120 euro)
MEC + Cable	($75 / 60 euro)
C16	($75 / 60 euro)
ADAT Mods x 2	($150 / 120 euro each)
8 In Mods x 2	($150 / 120 euro each)
8 out Mod x 1	($150 / 120 euro)

These units are all Blue versions, all in immaculate cond. (pics if necessary) and have had very little use (I had them whilst at EMU in the UK and spent most of th
