Dedric is also in the Springs. You can email me for his contact info if
Matthew doesn't work out.

You may be right, I'm not sure. He's been using Nuendo, but I though he still had his PARIS rig.

Another possibility would be for Morgan's customer to come up to Denver. There are some PARIS rigs in the Denver area. I'd suggest John Macy's studio.

Hi Morgan,

Nice to see you are alive and well, I guess things have been extremely busy at ECMM lately..

I'm really not sure what you've been going through lately, but since you have time to post here regarding other customers needs, I would have appreciated even a quick reply to any of my half dozen emails and numerous phone messages over the last 3+ weeks (even a "hey, I'll check into it and get back to you"), but I do appreciate you finally getting my Paris stuff shipped out to me last week. I'm still completely baffled by this since since I've dealt with you numerous times over the years and it's always been great and you've been top notch every time. Anyway, I'll chalk this up as an anomaly, and I wish you all the best.

Cheers,

Torry
